"My experience working as an IT Specialist at the IHS has been amazing. I really like my co-workers and feel that my day to day duties are helping American Indian/Alaska Natives. Every day at work is a new adventure and there is always something to work on. I have been able to travel to some IHS facilities out in Indian Country and that really opened my eyes on the work we are doing at IHS. I can honestly say I can't think of anywhere I would rather work than the IHS".

- Mike Ginn, IT Specialist

"Working at Indian Health Service as an IT Specialist is always challenging and gratifying. I started here as a contractor over twenty years ago, and while I left for a few years at one point, I came back because there is not a more rewarding place to work."
